

Well now we are into a new month and two thirds of the way through our pool it's time for an update.

- Well done to all of the players in pools 8 and 17 who have completed their matches, it looks like you have two weeks of rest ahead. Pools 3,5, 15 and 16 are trying to catch up but haven't quite made it yet. On the other hand there are quite a few pools that after 4 weeks still haven't played one match, come on guys leaving it late in this weather isn't the way to go. Also a well done to those new players that have started out on their Singles League campaign - Why are they all winning?
- The Admin fees are nearing their due date, these need to be collected so we can move the league forward to it's next incarnation and develop the site a bit further so its less labour intensive. Not to mention trying to pay back some of the money spent on it so far and since no one objected at paying less than a pound per month there is no reason to delay. The deadline for this is the 14th of this month as the next league starts on the 15th. If you want back in after this date you will be starting in the bottom pool as per the rules. To do this just click on the donate button on the front page of the site
- Thank you to the nearly one third of people so far that have contributed, this is you here: http://www.singlesleague.co.uk/page_1238542470437.html you will see soon enough what you have managed to help us with and more news of that will follow towards the end of this month.
- Once again a reminder of score reporting, this can be done in a couple of ways but the best is by far <http://www.singlesleague.co.uk/page007.html>. We need your scores in order to update the site and to put your final placing into the pools for the promotions and demotions, so please remember to send in your scores after you play, it's better to get two scores for a single match sent in rather than none if each person thinks the other is doing it.

Regards

The Committee
